Judge Tracy Is Moved to Lenity Because Infant's Welfare Depends on Convicted Grandpar-

After learning that the welfare of a baby 6 days old depended on Elias and Lucy Parr of No. 74 South Second street, athom he had fined $16 and costs each for disturbing the reace. Judge Tracy stayed

With her child in her arms, Florence Baird, daughter of the couple, went to the Pour Courts after her parents had been fined and declared she feared the baby would die if its grandmother was sent to the Workhouse. She said she did not know how to care for her child, as her motiver had looked after it since its birth.

To sufficiention was carried to Judge France, who said that he would give the Parrs another chance. Parr and his wife have been defendants in Judge tracy's court before and he had no inconstion to be entern with them when they appeared affore a.m. yesterday morning. The policines who made the arrest testiness that the Parris had used tad language that the neighborhood guage are, has matureed the neighborhood stage are, has disturted the neighborhood Asaday evening.

"I harsly feet that it is right to their helphoe, to let Parr and his wife go dipain," said Judge Tracy, but I cannot hear to thank tool on moocent bake might suffer it may were sent to the Workhouse, such an excuse will not avail them the next time, however. I shall send them to the Workhouse for the limit it they are lacuaght into my court and another such case a proved against them."
